Once the installation completes, go to Windows Starts and find the Anaconda3(64-bit) folder, you should see Anaconda Navigator, Jupyter Notebook, Anaconda Prompt... as in the following screenshot:

If you click on Jupyter Notebook and then just wait a while, the following screenshot will open:

How to install PyQt with Anaconda Prompt

To install PyQt package just type the following code in Anaconda Prompt:

`conda install -c anaconda pyqt` and make sure to press `enter` key:

```
Anaconda Prompt (Anaconda3)

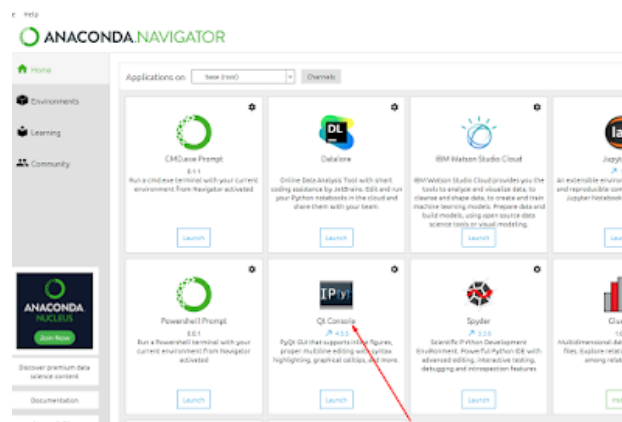

(base) C:\Users\Admin>conda install -c anaconda pyqt
```

Please be patient, it sometimes takes longer than you expect, depends on your internet connection, if you see the following screenshot, that means Anaconda is busy installation the PyQt package:

```
Anaconda Prompt (Anaconda3) - conda install -c anaconda pyqt

(base) C:\Users\Admin>conda install -c anaconda pyqt
Collecting package metadata (current_repodata.json): |
```

Once the installation completes, you should see the Qt Console in the Anaconda Navigator.

To Open up the Qt Designer, do the following:

1. Click on the Anaconda Prompt

2. Type `designer` after `C:\Users\Admin>`

3. Be patient and after a while, you should see the Qt Designer pops up as in the following screenshot
